

Shop Foreman

The Muhler Company-Charleston, SC

The Muhler Company, one of the largest and fastest growing window and door companies in South Carolina, is seeking to expand its staff. We are looking for a high energy experienced shop foreman to take charge of our glass laminating and window component fabricating group located in the Charleston SC area.

The candidate will have a degree in management or related technical/construction field and at least 5 years of successful managerial manufacturing/construction experience. Window and glass experience is a plus. This individual will be responsible for Energy Impact Film and Storm Stud manufacturing and installation activities and other related responsibilities.

This person must be a self-starter, creative, out of the box thinker, and a strong team builder who gets things accomplished in a timely fashion. Excellent computer skills and familiarity of quality control standards.

If you are interested in a fast paced, rewarding work environment, excellent pay and benefits and would like to live in one of the friendliest cities in America, please apply.

Job Type: Full-time

Required license or certification:

- Driver's License

Required education:

- Bachelor's